Double Calcaneal Osteotomy
Jonathan T. Deland, MD

The merits of lateral column lengthening in addition to a medial slide osteotomy will be reviewed during the debate. The procedure has been associated with lateral discomfort or pain in patients in several studies. If the incidence of such symptoms can be decreased, this remains a useful procedure. Research publication is support of the treatment option include:

Deland JT; Page A; Sung I-H; O’Malley MJ; Inda D; Choung S: Posterior Tibial Tendon Insufficiency Results at Different Stages. HSS Journal 2006; 2:157-160